Dear Colleagues,

We hope this message finds you well. Istanbul Aydın University is pleased and honored to announce the 3rd International Graduate Student Congress, organized by the Institute of Graduate Education, to be held under the theme: "Interdisciplinary Approaches and Future Research Areas."

The main aim of the congress is to bring together researchers conducting graduate-level studies across different disciplines in order to enhance scientific interaction, share current research trends, and provide young academics with the opportunity to present their work on an international platform. The congress seeks to encourage knowledge production, improve research quality, foster academic networking, and contribute to the academic development of graduate students by offering new collaboration opportunities.

The congress covers original graduate-level research across a broad spectrum of fields, ranging from social sciences to engineering, and from health sciences to natural sciences. The scope includes theoretical and applied studies, field research, literature analyses, experimental projects, and interdisciplinary research. Through a variety of academic activities such as oral and poster presentations, panels, workshops, and academic sessions, participants will have the opportunity to engage in methodological discussions, share their research at an international level, and interact with expert academics in their respective fields.

The congress is designed as a comprehensive scientific platform supporting both academic and professional development.

Main Thematic Areas

- Social Sciences and Humanities
- Engineering and Technology Studies
- Natural and Physical Sciences
- Health Sciences
- Communication, Media, and Digital Studies
- Educational Sciences and Learning Research
- Interdisciplinary Approaches

Theoretical and applied studies, innovative methodological approaches, and original academic research conducted under these themes are warmly welcomed.

We cordially invite master's and doctoral students, academics, and researchers to participate in the 3rd International Graduate Student Congress, which we believe will significantly contribute to scientific production, knowledge sharing, and international academic collaboration.

Detailed Abstract and Full Paper Submission Guidelines are provided in the linked document. Kindly review the document carefully before preparing and submitting your paper.
