

Teaching type	Credit hours(2)	Thesis Graduation Research	course number
face-to-face	pre-requisite 703423		703591
This course includes choosing an integrated architectural project, and motivating students to deal with practical inputs in terms of choosing the project and its function (preferably submitted by a relevant authority). And preparing the graduation research systematically, dealing with integrated architectural programming for the final architectural project. And proposing the site (if not specified). Preparing the final study, which includes defining objectives, needs, methodologies, contents, site analysis and case study analysis, in addition to propose the design principles, strategies and alternatives to reach an initial concept for preparing the final design.			