

Vision and Mission of the Management Information Systems Program

Program Vision:

Leadership in preparing professionals who combine managerial competence with technical capability.

Program Mission:

To provide an academic program that integrates management and information technology, while developing analytical, leadership, and organizational skills to meet the requirements of development and the labor market.