

Overview of the Artificial Intelligence Program:

The Bachelor's program in Artificial Intelligence and Data Science was launched in the 2021–2022 academic year as part of the Computer Science Department. It aims to prepare graduates with strong competencies in data analysis and the development of intelligent solutions using artificial intelligence technologies such as machine learning, deep learning, robotics, and big data analytics.